EVENT PRESENTATION

KICK-OFF | THE RESPIRATORY HEALTH INSTITUTE

Organized by the RespirERA Institute, the Kick-off Meeting marks a foundational milestone for France's first institute entirely dedicated to respiratory health. Bringing together leading scientific experts, healthcare professionals, researchers, industry partners, and patient associations, this inaugural event will explore the major strategic axes shaping the future of respiratory medicine and science.

Spanning two days at the Sheraton Hotel in Nice, the programme will address critical and emerging topics ranging from environmental exposures such as micro and nanoplastics and the exposome to precision oncology, aging, prevention, early diagnosis, and the integration of artificial intelligence and complex data into clinical practice. Through high-level keynote lectures, scientific sessions, poster flash presentations, and interactive public round tables, the meeting is designed to foster a vibrant multidisciplinary dialogue across the entire respiratory health ecosystem.

As a privileged forum for exchange and collaboration, the Kick-off Meeting provides a unique opportunity to share cutting-edge insights, compare innovative approaches, and build strong synergies between clinicians, researchers, biologists, pathologists, and key stakeholders in health innovation. By placing patient engagement and public dialogue at the very heart of its discussions, the institute underscores its steadfast commitment to patient-centric care and societal impact.

For our partners and sponsors, this launch event represents a strategic opportunity to engage with top-tier experts and support a pioneering initiative tackling one of the most pressing public health challenges. By associating their name with this landmark event, partners actively contribute to advancing research, education, and innovation in respiratory health on both a national and international scale.

Through this Kick-off Meeting, the RespirERA Institute reaffirms its ambition to act as a dynamic catalyst for scientific excellence, innovation, and collaboration, bringing together world-class expertise to transform the future of respiratory health.
